History of Ellsworth

from extracts from a lecture by Dr. Calvin Peek of Ellsworth in 1837-8, printed in Ellsworth American, Nov. 19, 1869, and reprinted in 1888.

"When Capt. Tinker came here (in 1770) the following families were already settled: Benjamin Milliken lived near Boat Cove, Thomas Milliken at the mills, John Murch on the lot now owned by Col. Dutton."

"Benjamin Milliken and Thomas claimed the mill privileges on both sides of the (Union) river. The first dam and mill built on this river did not stand long, was carried away by the freshet. When the second dam was built by the Millikens, feeling unable to build the whole, let the settlers have the privilege on the west side, they building half of the dam. The mill on the west side was owned by John Murch, Benjamin Joy, Samuel Joy, and others."

Obituaries

From Ellsworth American, Jan. 31, 1912

BAR HARBOR — Beatrice Louise "Bea Lou" Horner, 95, died peacefully Jan. 27, 2012, after a long and very happy life. She was born Nov. 19, 1916, in Bar Harbor. She was the elder daughter of Asa Hoyt and Blanche Deasy Hodgkins, and the last surviving grandchild of the Honorable Luere Babson and Emma Moore Deasy.

Bea Lou graduated from Bar Harbor High School in 1934 — she had been the oldest living graduate — and from Wheelock College, Boston, Mass., in 1938 with a teaching degree in elementary education. She lovingly taught kindergarten in the Bar Harbor public school system for many years, with legions of graduates who remember her fondly. On July 2, 1939, she married W. Rea Horner of Carmichaels, Pa., who in later years was known to our family as "The Music Man." Rea worked for the Mobil Oil Corp. on Mount Desert Island, Hancock Point and Bangor, and for 52 years of happy marriage they lived and raised their children in Bar Harbor. Rea taking early retirement in 1973, they traveled in Europe and spent many wonderful winters with friends at their condominium in Bradenton, Fla. Music and the Bar Harbor Congregational Church were central to their life together. They were founding members of the original Acadia Choral Society and stalwarts in the church choir for many years. Even as she neared the end of her life, Bea Lou still knew the alto part of every hymn. At the time of her death, she had been a member of the church for 79 years, the oldest on record.

Bea Lou is survived by her son, Bill Horner and his wife, Cookie; by her daughter, Andrea Semels of Austin, Texas; and her daughter-in-law, Nicola Knipe of Princeton, N.J. She has five grandchildren, Asa and Eva Horner of Princeton, N.J., Lara Horner and Amy Munson of Bar Harbor and Christian Horner of Los Angeles; three step-grandchildren, Jennifer Judd-McGee of Northeast Harbor, Kathryn Judd of Traverse City, Mich., and Samuel Judd of Boston. Her blended family has produced nine fabulous great-grandchildren. She was predeceased by her husband, Rea, in 1991; son, Rob in 1992, grandson, Mark Woolman Horner, in 1998; and by her son-in-law, Dan Semels, in 2002.

A service in celebration of the life of Bea Lou Horner will be held 2 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 4, 2012, at the Bar Harbor Congregational Church. Those who wish may make a donation in her memory to the Bar Harbor Congregational Church, 29 Mount Desert St., Bar Harbor, ME 04609. Arrangements in care of Jordan-Fernald, 1139 Main St., Mount. Desert. Condolences may be expressed at www.jordanferald.com.
